Demo Institute of Technology - Academic Regulations (DEMO DOCUMENT)

This fictional document summarises the academic regulations that apply to all undergraduate students of the Demo Institute of Technology. It was written only for testing the DocuMind application.

1. Attendance Requirement

Every student must maintain a minimum attendance of 75 percent in each course in order to be eligible to appear for the end-semester examination. Attendance is calculated separately for theory classes and laboratory sessions, and it is recorded by the course instructor at the start of every class.

A student whose attendance falls between 65 and 75 percent may apply for condonation of the shortage. Condonation is granted only on medical grounds or for participation in official institute events, and the application must be supported by a valid certificate. Students with less than 65 percent attendance will not be allowed to take the examination and must repeat the course.

2. Examinations and Assessment

Each course is assessed through continuous internal assessment worth 40 percent and an end-semester examination worth 60 percent. Internal marks are awarded for class tests, assignments and laboratory record books. A student must score at least 40 percent in the end-semester examination and 50 percent overall to pass a course.

A student who fails a course may appear for a supplementary examination, which is conducted within two months of the declaration of results. Requests for re-evaluation of answer scripts must be submitted to the Controller of Examinations within ten days of the results being published.

3. Grading System

Grades are awarded on a ten point scale. A score of 90 percent and above earns grade O (outstanding, 10 points), while scores between 80 and 89 percent earn grade A plus (9 points). The Cumulative Grade Point Average is computed by weighting each course grade by its credits. A minimum CGPA of 5.0 is required for the award of the degree.

4. Academic Integrity

Plagiarism, copying in examinations and impersonation are serious offences. Students found guilty by the disciplinary committee may receive a zero in the course, suspension for one semester, or expulsion for repeated offences. All project reports are checked using similarity detection software before the final viva voce.

5. Library, Hostel and Scholarships

The central library is open from 8 am to 10 pm on working days and provides access to textbooks, journals and digital resources. Hostel accommodation is allotted on the basis of distance from home and academic merit, and residents must follow the hostel rules regarding visitors and quiet hours.

Merit scholarships are awarded to the top ten percent of students in each department. A scholarship is renewed every year provided the student maintains a CGPA of at least 8.0 and meets the attendance requirement.
